INTERNAL AUDIT

Internal Audit is an independent assessment and appraisal within an organization which operates as a service to management by measuring and evaluating the effectiveness of the internal control system.

A well-developed system of Internal Control and Internal Audit is essential to enable constant monitoring of the financial activities in an organization. This process helps to bring about prompt corrective measures to remove deficiencies identified in the system. It examines value for money effectiveness and efficiency of operation.

The scheme of departmentalization of union Govt. Accounts introduced in Government of India in 1976 envisages setting up of an efficient Internal Audit Organization to ensure both accuracy in Accounts and efficiency in operation of accounting set up. As such Internal Audit Wing was created in each Ministry.

The role of Internal Audit has significantly evolved in the past few years. It has graduated from being primarily a compliance audit into a system of assurance to the Chief Accounting Authority. Audit with risk based approach provides an opportunity to identify possible gaps in the control frame work and suggests measures to plug them. The purpose of audit is to help an organization to minimize the risk of losses to organization. Now Internal Audit is an important management tool so that organizational objective is met with economy efficiency and effectiveness.

Revised Charter of the Integrated Finance Scheme as circulated by M/O Finance D/O Expenditure vide O. M. No. 5(6)/L&C/2006 dated 1.6.2006 stipulates that Internal Audit Wing working under the CCA/CA's would move beyond the existing system of compliance/regulatory audit and focus on:
